ALOHA FESTIVALS FLORAL PARADE
9am, Saturday, September 24, 2022
ALOHA `ĀINA, LOVE OF THE LAND

PARADE SCRIPT
DEADLINE: AUG. 19,
2022

BULLET POINTS ARE HIGHLY ENCOURAGED!

In 50 words or less, string together the following four pieces of information in order to make your “parade script” lei:

- 1) Unit name:
- 2) Unit's Purpose/Mission:
- 3) Unit's Accomplishments:
- 4) How does your unit instill aloha in our keiki of today?

GENERAL INFORMATION & PARADE RULES

Mahalo nui loa for participating in a great tradition in Hawai'i Begun in 1947, the Aloha Festivals Floral Parade has, in recent years, been ranked within the top 3 floral parades and top 25 parades held in the United States. The pride we take in our parade – and its national ranking – is due entirely to the many volunteers and participants who have made this event truly great.

Consisting of brilliant floral floats, magnificent equestrian pā'ū and mounted units, marching units, drill teams, clowns and a variety of novelty entries, the success of the Aloha Festivals parade is due to our tireless volunteers who share the dignity of our heritage, the beauty of our home, and the Hawaiian traditions of kōkua and aloha with our neighbors, friends, family, kama'āina and visitor alike.

The rules of the parade are made for your safety and the safety of others. We appreciate your participation and cooperation. – The Parade Committee

Theme – This year's theme is:

"ALOHA `AINA, LOVE OF THE LAND"

PĀ`Ū PRINCESS “FEMALE” ROLE

“The Pā`ū Princess is the Unit Leader and Coordinator of the Pā`ū Unit and will represent a specific island.

The Pā`ū Princess must attend the Parade Participants’ meeting, scheduled annually in the month of August and all Princess’ meetings. The Princess’ responsibility is to maintain communication between the Unit and the Parade Committee, via the Equestrian Chairperson.

The Pā`ū Princess, with other Unit members, will decide on their respective flowers, style of leis, etc. ONLY THE PĀ`Ū QUEEN MAY WEAR A “CLOSED CIRCLE” CROWN. Hats are permitted under the discretion of the Equestrian Chairperson.

The following table shows the island color and attire of the pā`ū princess and her attendants:

ISLAND	ISLAND COLOR	COLOR/ATTIRE - PRINCESS		ISLAND FLOWER
		KĪPOLA (VELVET)	PĀ`Ū (SATIN)
HAWAI`I	RED	DARK RED	LIGHT RED	LEHUA

During the parade, the Pā`ū Princess will ride in a regal manner, acknowledging applause.

PĀ‘Ū PRINCESS [FEMALE]

PROTOCOL

The overall goal of a princess is to become a pā‘ū queen after she rides eight major islands as princess in the Aloha Festivals Floral Parade.

- 1. If a princess decides not to participate in the next upcoming parade, she must find a replacement in order for her to return the following year and keep her previous entry status.
- 2. If a princess decides not to participate in the next upcoming parade due to medical or health reasons, she is still able to keep her previous entry status.
- 3. If a princess voluntarily decides not to participate in the next upcoming parade, she will forfeit her previous entry status as princess.

* Entry status is defined as the position of a princess among her princess peers while en route to attaining pā‘ū queen status.*

PAGE (1) – [MALE/FEMALE]

- The Page is to hold the Unit Banner, facing the banner forward at all times and express dignity, respect and pride. The banner must say “Princess of (island designate)”.
- Male - Hair and facial hair (mustache, sideburns, and beard) must be neatly trimmed and styled. Long hair, must be braided neatly and kept under their hat.
- Costumes – Male Page must wear long-sleeved cotton or satin colored Kalākaua shirts or same printed fabric as the attendants’ pā‘ū. It must be tucked into pants; solid color Panama, Lauhala, or Cowboy hats with flowers are allowed; solid color trousers and dark colored boots. Satin or Velvet Sashes or cummerbund are REQUIRED or of the same printed material as worn by attendants. NO CHAPS, VESTS, AND CAPES. For FEMALE page attire may wear a satin long sleeve top or same printed material as the attendants pā‘ū with a bottom flare that don’t need to be tucked in which is similar to the escorts with colored jeans or long pants. It’s the princess decision on what attire her page will wear.

ATTENDANTS (2) – [FEMALE]

Attendants are to ride in a straight row.

Attendants are to smile and acknowledge applause with a slight, dignified bow of their heads.

Costumes – Attendants must wear solid island color cotton or satin kīpola; printed cotton pā‘ū. Pā‘ū fabric design must be Hawaiian, which may also include palaka.

Tribal designs, however, are not permitted. Pā‘ū measurement is at least 12 yards of material w/3 panels sewn from left to right. Kīpola measurement is 54 inches (length is from hips and width is from right wrist to left wrist).

ESCORTS/OUTRIDERS (3) – [MALE]

Escorts are responsible for the safety and well-being of all unit members.

Escorts assist the Princess, Attendants, and Page in mounting, checking saddles, stirrups and leis – making sure all is secured. Escorts are to mount last.

Hair and facial hair (mustache, sideburns, and beard) must be neatly trimmed and styled. Long hair, must be braided neatly and kept under their hat.

Costumes – Escorts must wear long-sleeved cotton or satin solid white or “island” colored standard dress or Kalākaua shirts. The shirt MUST be tucked into pants; solid color Panama, Lauhala, or Cowboy hats; solid color trousers and dark-colored boots. Velvet or Satin Sashes or cummerbund is REQUIRED. Bow ties and scarves must be satin or velvet or of the same printed material as worn by Attendants. NO CHAPS, VESTS, AND CAPES.

Horse Rope – Princess-chosen Lead Escort must ride with a lead rope in case of an emergency. The Lead Escort is identified as the one with the lead rope and will be judged in the Alaka‘i category to vvy for the Most Outstanding Lead Escort award.

MĀLAMA ‘ĀINA HELPERS

Each equestrian unit must provide their own Mālama ‘Āina helpers to clean up after the horses in the staging area (Diamond Head side of Ala Moana Beach Park, holding area (‘Ewa side of Ala Moana Beach Park), starting point (Ala Moana Beach Park) to the end of the parade at Kapi‘olani Park, as well as the designated horse trailers within Kapi‘olani Park. The Mālama ‘Āina helpers are to be in healthy/physical condition, no younger than 12 years of age accompanied by a responsible adult, whose duty will be to follow directly behind the unit from the assembly area at Ala Moana Park, throughout the parade route and to the disbanding area at the terminus of the parade.

Mālama ‘Āina helpers must perform their main assigned task, which is to clean up after the horses. Decorated receptacles may be used and should be constructed with lightweight materials that could be easily be hand carried or drawn by a “push/pull” type wagon. No motorized or mechanical vehicles will be permitted. SINGING AND DANCING ARE PERMITTED. For safety reasons, DO NOT DRAG RAKE, DUSTPANS OR SHOVELS! Supplies needed: Cart/Wagon/Trash can (decorated), plastic rake/shovel, plastic dustpan, broom & trash bags.

Mālama ‘Āina helpers must wear appropriate attire. SHOES MUST BE WORN, NO SLIPPERS. NO EXCEPTIONS.

Mālama ‘Āina helpers are a part of the pā‘ū unit’s judging criteria. Fifty (50) points will be subtracted for the unit’s grand total if Mālama ‘Āina participants are not provided or do not perform their duties.

Mālama ‘Āina helpers will also be judged separately from the equestrian units.
